VB - I am glad to hear and have asked my assistant Mr. [unclear] to work out a mutually convenient date with you.

Dear Mr. Carlucci,

We are now planning our meetings program for the coming year and I should like to invite you to come to Pratt House to discuss problems of intelligence in an open society with your fellow members.

I hoped that we might find a mutually convenient date in February or March. As you know, our meetings customarily start at 5:15 pm for tea, with an hour long session beginning at 5:30. We would ask you to make a presentation of about 20 minutes, leaving ample time for questions and discussion. If you could stay, we would also like to have a dinner in your honor, with a smaller group of members especially interested in your topic.

Please let me know if you will be able to accept this invitation. I look forward to the opportunity of welcoming you to Pratt House.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Berger
